A field of 81 presented for the March Monthly Medal on Saturday with the overall results going right down to a count back finish. A score of 63 was the number which was recorded by both Chris Williams and Ross Martin. Williams got the result playing off his mark of 24 whilst the unlucky Mitchell played off a handicap of 14. Best scratch score for the day was also a shared result with both Steve Kohut and Mick Neylan both scoring eight over the card 77. Kohut got the nod on another count back. Martin's score of 63 gave him the outright A Grade win whilst Peter Fedorenko won the B Grade event with a net 66 result. Marcus Crossley is a golfer in red hot form as he scored a net 66 on Saturday to go with the two recent Saturday and Thursday victory's. A score of 69 was required to win a ball down the line whilst a total of just the twelve players were able to play to their handicap on the day.

The aforementioned Crossley won Thursday's event with a fine round of 41 points just the one point in advance of Charles Edward Hardy for the A Grade event. Best in for B Grade was David Thorp with a winning score of 39 points, once again, just the one point in front of Clinton Smith and Peter Johnson.
